

PRESS RELEASE

NEMO LIGHTING TAKES OVER MAJORITY OF REGGIANI ILLUMINAZIONE

The two companies, leaders in the lighting sector, will create a €60 million worth hub

Nemo Lighting, operating in high-end, decorative and architectural lighting, owned by Federico Palazzari completed the acquisition of a majority stake in Reggiani Illuminazione, historic company in the lighting architectural field founded in Brianza in 1957.

The acquisition contributes to Nemo's vision of creating an Italian-led industrial lighting hub, which began in 2020 with the investment in Ilti Luce, now Nemo Studio. "The first objective of this acquisition, to me, is to bring new competencies within the group, train and attract talents" – explains Palazzari. "Reggiani's top-level technical skills and positioning will allow the group to create important synergies also at a commercial level, expanding the offer, but above all opportunities."

The Reggiani family will remain involved in the management of the company and will support Palazzari, who will assume the position of managing director of the group. A group that today is larger and more solid also from an economic point of view, with a consolidated target of around 60 million euros in 2023, three production plants, four offices abroad and almost 300 employees worldwide.

"From a commercial point of view, the two companies – Nemo and Reggiani – will continue to operate as separate entities, maintaining the respective partnerships, the resulting cooperation and synergies at the production level will strengthen the global competitive positioning" - adds Matteo Reggiani – "making us able to answer to the increasingly broad and sophisticated market needs, with a structured commercial presence in Italy, France, the United Kingdom, the United States, China and the Middle East and a distribution network that covers more than 80 countries".
